To all our valued customers:

A major storm has just landed in the North Eastern US (PA/NY/NJ). Hunts Point Market, and many other receivers are now closed and are expected to open back at 2pm tomorrow after the storm has ended.

Due to these closures, it is expected that many shipments will be delayed as a result of white-out conditions and closed roads.

For those who were planning on watching the Flyers game tonight against Carolina, that game has also been cancelled
