

TEXAS AND SURROUNDING AREA - WEATHER UPDATE

Major Winter Storm hits Southern US States

To all our valued customers:

Please be aware that a major winter storm has hit many southern US states causing significant highway closures. The following states are being hit hardest: NM, TX, OK, MO & AZ with temperatures hovering below zero in some areas - Continued snow, ice and freezing rain is expected for the next 24-48 hours.

Until the highways are open and operating under normal conditions, you are likely to see a number of delays for shipments transiting these regions.

Scout will endeavor to keep you posted on all developments as they are known.

Should you have any questions, concerns or comments please do not hesitate to contact us.
